NO. 8-SEVENTEENTH YEAR

NOMINATION FOR SAANICH IS PROMISED

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., Receives Assurance Conservative Nomination for Riding Will Go to Him

ANNOUNCEMENT IS WARMLY GREETED

Leader Declares for Home Manufacture of Natural Resources and Building Up Auxiliary Industries

THE probability that Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., will be the candidate in Saanich at the next provincial election was announced at a meeting held at Marigold Hall last evening when, at a gathering which was called together under the auspices of Ward Four Conservative Association, a tremendous ovation was given the leader of the party, Colonel Woods, president of the Central Association for Saanich, in moving a vote of confidence in Dr. Tolmie as leader of the party, and the future Premier of the province, gave expression to the fact that it was altogether likely that Dr. Tolmie would be the candidate for Saanich.

"I think it is most appropriate," said Colonel Woods, "to express the opinion that is held on all hands in this riding that the nomination will be offered Dr. Tolmie for this district. This announcement appeared to strike a very responsive chord in the meeting, and the entire audience, which crowded the hall to its full capacity, sang 'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow' followed with three cheers, and a tiger for the leader of the party."

LEADER GRATIFIED
"It is with the greatest gratification that I accept this demonstration on the part of the conservatives of Saanich," said Dr. Tolmie, "I will ever remember it and if I am fortunate enough to get the nomination at the hands of this association, I will be ever at your service, and will give the best of which I am capable in serving your interest."

In his address before the large gathering Dr. Tolmie said that the situation in the province must be faced squarely. He said he felt that, with the resources that the province had, richer by far than the three states south of the province, it seemed to him remarkable that there was not the progress made here that there was south of the line.

THE SOUTHWARD MOVEMENT
"Perhaps the greatest tragedy of British Columbia, in common with other parts of Canada today, is the fact that so many of the youth of the country are leaving for a foreign land," said the speaker. This fact had been brought home very realistically to him in meeting on the boat one whom he knew well, and who was in young manhood, and who had informed him that he was going to California. No Human Being Seen for Days in Shantung Areas

TSINANPU, SHANTUNG, China, Dec. 19.—Wholesale banditry and military oppression, and depredations are causing an enormous exodus from Shantung to Manchuria. It is estimated that a million people have left this year. It is possible to travel for days over formerly rich farming districts without seeing a human being.

WINTER VISITS MEDITERRANEAN

Twenty-Two Degrees of Frost in Paris—Snow Covers Riviera and City of Rome—Severe in London

VENETIAN HAS BLANKET OF SNOW

PARIS, Dec. 19.—All France is in the grip of bitter weather today. Temperatures as low as zero are reported in some parts of France, and the weather is regarded as the most severe in fifteen years. In Paris the thermometer hovered around ten degrees above zero. A cold wave extending from London to Rome and beyond brought unaccustomed snow today to southern Europe. Nice, Cannes, Monte Carlo, and even Naples, were covered with white blankets. The Riviera, jealous of its reputation as the land of perpetual summer, tried to conceal the news, but it leaked out.

An inch of snow covered the Forum and Constantine's monuments as well as other ancient monuments in the fields in the vicinity of Rome. Newspapers printed photographs of snow scenes as a novelty. In Cannes, three inches of snow today and other towns along the French Mediterranean coast were seeing it for the first time within the recollection of inhabitants. Further north Jack Frost rode a wind from the northwest, bringing the temperature as low as zero in some parts of sunny France. The weather is regarded as the most severe in fifteen years. The mercury hovered around ten above zero. The poor of the French capital flocked to such warm places as the national library, crowding the regular Continued on Page 2

Quebec City Photographed From Plane

FOR a city of the new world Quebec is rich in historical associations. Its site was visited by Champlain; for its possession Wolfe and Montcalm fought. Like Montreal it is not above the ebb and flow of the tide in the river estuary. It is still the capital of the province, and the seat of Laval University and other institutions. The Archbishop of Quebec has just been created Cardinal.

City Is Negotiating For $250,000 Branch Of Eastern Factory

ESTABLISHMENT of a branch factory here by well-known Eastern piano manufacturers is being negotiated yesterday by Mr. A. E. Todd, industrial adviser. The factory, if established here, will not only manufacture pianos but gramophones and radio cabinets and organs. The capitalization of the company will be approximately $250,000.

At the present time it would be unwise to reveal the name of the concern, Mr. Todd said, as a merger with another piano factory was pending and other developments in the East with respect to piano manufacturing might affect the negotiations.

A representative of the firm was in Vancouver this fall looking for a site for a Western branch of the company's factory to facilitate the export trade and the shipment of pianos to the Western market. Met there by Mayor J. Carl Penney he was induced to come to Victoria, where he was introduced to Mr. Todd and Alderman H. C. Holmes, chairman of the industrial committee. Since then negotiations have been carried on with the firm, which has been established in the East since 1870.

Mr. Todd conducted the representative over various sites in Victoria. The one that appealed most to the director of the piano firm was the site of the building and adjoining lot on the corner of the city hall and the waterfront. The site is a convenient one for the company's factory to facilitate the export trade and the shipment of pianos to the Western market.

VICTORIA FOLK MAY SEE COMET

Heavenly Traveler Due Tomorrow Evening and All Depends on Atmospheric Conditions

OBSERVER WON'T NEED SPECTACLES

Comet Discovered at Melbourne, Australia, by F. J. Schjellerup, an Amateur Astronomer

PROVIDED the barometer remains high to the North, there is every possibility that Schjellerup's comet will be visible here to the unaided eye tomorrow evening. Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Saanich, has had further information from Dr. Hainow Shapley, director of the Harvard Observatory, which is the central distributing point for astronomical matters on this continent concerning the computed position of this interesting body, and Mr. Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau, and Gonzales Houghton, has supplied the weather forecast for viewing the phenomenon.

Dr. Plaskett states that according to the predictions and orbit sent him, Schjellerup's comet passed the perihelion, or point of closest approach to the sun, on December 1 last, when it was about 55,000,000 miles from the sun. Travelling northwards and eastwards, it is daily moving into a more favorable situation for observing here. Its actual movement in the sky being at the rate of about five degrees per day, ten degrees west of the star at the time of the discovery, and in terms comprehensible to the layman about ten times the diameter of the sun or moon.

On the night of December 20, which is tonight, it will be about five degrees south and twenty degrees west of Altair, on December 25, Christmas Day, it will be about ten degrees west of the star at the time of the discovery, and in terms comprehensible to the layman about ten times the diameter of the sun or moon.

The comet was discovered at Melbourne, Australia, by F. J. Schjellerup, an amateur astronomer. The discovery was reported on December 4, and two days later the observatory at La Plata, Argentina, described a similar comet, moving northward.

In the communication which Dr. Plaskett has received there is no information as to the brightness or tail of the comet, but the director of the observatory here states that the time of its discovery as being of the third magnitude and becoming slowly fainter. "It does not promise to become as all conspicuous, notwithstanding previous statements about its great brightness."

Dr. Plaskett's statement is based on the information which he has received from Harvard Observatory, and the tailing of the facts concerning the comet naturally depends upon the correctness or otherwise of the computed predictions of the comet's motion around the sun.

English Bishops Meet At Lambeth to Decide Course to Be Followed

Conference Which Began Yesterday Is to Last Three Days—Strong Movement in Favor of Again Approving Revised Book and Again Presenting It to Commons

Disregarding Vote in Parliament Clergy Have Begun Using Revision

ONDON, Dec. 19.—The future policy of the Church of England toward the revised Prayer Book is being decided at a meeting of bishops at Lambeth Palace, official residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury. The meeting, which opened today, is expected to last three days. The deliberations are private.

In political circles there is a movement, which is gaining strength, in favor of presenting the revised Prayer Book to the House of Commons at the next session, after formally passing it through the convocations of the House of Canterbury and York for that purpose.

It is argued by those favoring this course that the one day allowed for debate was insufficient, and that the members of the House which debated the measure last Thursday, had been influenced unduly by the massive campaign conducted in the House of Commons and York for that purpose.

CLUES FOUND TO KIDNAPPER

Car Traced From Kansas City and San Diego—Finger Prints Found—Missing Degrader Suspected

REWARDS OFFERED TOTAL AT $100,000

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—One more tangible bit of evidence, and one more new clue out of scores that the scrutinizing attention of hundreds of officers who desperately hunted the murderer of twelve-year-old Marian Parker.

The discovery of what police detectives termed the fiend's watch tower, a vantage point where he was able to spy upon the movements of the slain child's family and upon detectives staked out about the house of tragedy, was announced as a bit of evidence amounting to a definite connection with the kidnapper-slayer's movements.

THE WATCH TOWER

The "watch tower" was an unused Greek letter fraternity room on the second floor of a private garage, and a vantage point which afforded a complete sweep of the vicinity about the Parker home. The owner declared that fraternity members had let the rent go months in arrears, that the place had not been used, that he himself was in it on Friday to close the blinds, and that on Sunday morning the blind of a window was found open again. This, and tracks showing someone had entered the second-floor rooms, led the detectives to believe the fiend had been there Friday night, when Perry M. Parker, the child's father, was to have met the kidnapper to pay a $15,000 ransom and receive his daughter.

Further significant evidence, the detectives declared, was the finding of Greek symbols and paraphernalia, which they connected with the word "death" written in Greek letters, on two of the fiend's letters to the father of his victim.

Neighbors report an automobile had been driven into the garage Friday night. The police declared it certain that the fiend had hidden somewhere in the vicinity on Friday night to watch the coming of detectives in the vicinity. They pointed out that his next letter, received Saturday by Parker, described by hand the movements of detectives and police cars that night.

ESCAPED DEGENERATE

The new clue on which sheriff's deputies started an investigation to-night came from Santa Monica, adjoining Beach City, where the fiend was given Chief of Police C. E. Webb, there, of a young man answering the kidnapper's description, by a man, name withheld, who said he had been caretaker of the youth. The caretaker told the Beach City police that the suspect recently escaped from a sanitarium where he had been lodged on account of degenerate acts, and last was heard from in San Diego, eight days ago.

The caretaker reported that the suspect had telephoned his parents at Santa Monica for money, but refused to give his San Diego address. He was reported to have left the sanitarium in a state of degeneration, and was reported to have been reported by the police to have borne out the caretaker's story, but not to have assisted in locating the kidnapper. In connection with the fiend's asserted "watch tower" revelations, detectives declared that three of the thirty-three members of the Greek letter fraternity were absent from the city. A widespread search was put under way for them, while the questioning of all the other members also was started.

FINGERPRINTS

Two fingerprints found on the windshield of the kidnapper's stolen car tallied with two discovered on his crudely printed death threat letters. The machine's steering wheel was removed for discovery of more fingerprints. The car was found in a parking space a few blocks from the street, where the killer dumped the body after receiving his $15,000 ransom from the father on Saturday night. It had been left there by a man answering the fiend's description, and his license number was that noted by Parker. The car was identified as having been stolen from Dr. Herbert Bantz in Kansas City, November 8, and as bearing license plates stolen in San Diego, December 13.

VARIOUS SUSPECTS

Three suspects continued in custody, although officers expressed the opinion they were not connected with the crime. They were held for further investigation. Lillian Padley, twenty, telephone operator, was arrested when she was reported to have screamed hysterically, "I didn't kill her," as she fled from a house on Main Street, near where the body was surrendered. The officers held were Earl Smith, twenty-five, and Gaylord Barnham.

A fourth suspect, taken from an eastbound bus in Las Vegas, Nevada, was released when his photograph and fingerprints proved him not to be the man wanted.

$100,000 OFFERED

An autopsy today on the boy of the child failed to reveal the exact cause of death. The brain and vital organs were turned over to the county chemist to determine if poison or anesthetic had been given the child.

Public indignation and public and private spirit continued to manifest itself far and wide. Offers of cash rewards for the fiend, dead or alive, had mounted to a total of $100,000, and citizens from all walks of life lent their aid to the cause.

WHOLE STORY IN OUTLINE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Here is the day-by-day and hour-by-hour resume of the kidnapping and slaying of twelve-year-old Marian Parker:

Thursday, December 15, 8:15 a.m. Marian and Marjorie, the twin sister, on their way to school, noticed a stranger in a dark coupe about half a block from their home. He attempted to speak to them and followed them to the street car.

12:15 p.m.—A stranger appeared at the Junior High School and told the attendance supervisor that Marian's father, Perry M. Parker, an assistant bank cashier, had been injured and is calling for the girl. Marian is excused and the stranger drives away with her.

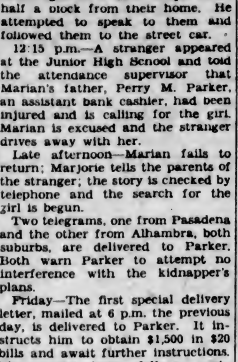

Late afternoon—Marian fails to return; Marjorie tells the parents of the stranger; the story is checked by telephone and the search for the girl is begun.

Two telegrams, one from Pasadena and the other from Alhambra, both suburbs, are delivered to Parker. Both warn Parker against any interference with the kidnapper's plans.

Friday—The first special delivery letter, mailed at 6 p.m. the previous day, is delivered to Parker. It instructs him to obtain $15,000 in $20 bills and await further instructions.

LATE ALBERT E. WELLS

The death of Constable Wells was received with deep regret at police headquarters, where he was one of the most popular and efficient members of the force. He was a friend of every man on the force, Chief of Police Fry stated.

"He was a dependable marksman on the city police revolver team, and an officer who could be trusted to carry out the most exacting duties with the greatest expedition," the Chief said.

Mr. Wells was a man of thirty, having been born in Edgemoor, Birmingham, England, on May 17, 1897. He came to Canada in 1920 and joined the city police force two years and nine months ago. He was a man who had seen both naval and military service.

He is survived by his widow, two children, Joan, aged seven, and Albert, aged three and a half; his brother, Mr. Fred Wells, of 24 Lotus Street, and his father, who still resides in Edgemoor. His eldest brother was killed during the war.

On the night before he met with his fatal accident he requested that a Christmas tree be held for the children of members of the police force. It is quite probable that his last request will be carried out.

Tolmie said he had tried to dissuade him from doing so, but the young man said that British Columbia did not offer the opportunities that were available in California. Upon enquiry into the whereabouts of the man, the speaker said he was in different parts of the United States.

The incident, said the leader, had meant deep impression upon him, and he felt that there was need of the very fullest investigation into the causes and the cure for this condition.

Dr. Tolmie went on to say that when attention was called to facts like this, Attorney-General Mansel made it a practice to refer to himself as "glorious."

"I am willing to take the judgment of the public as to whether that describes me," added the doctor.

The leader said that he was in full accord with the resolution passed at Kamloops which called for the furthering of the manufacture of raw materials in the province at home to the fullest extent possible.

An example of what this meant in power, the country should do all in the power of the province to had been shipping the ores out of the province for treatment. Then a new order of things had come into the world, and the mines, and the largest refining works in the world had been established, giving a population to Trail of some 8,000 people.

A GREAT PLANT

But the effect was not on Trail alone. It worked to the advantage of all parts of the country. There were 10,000 tons of coal, and 62,400 tons of coke used at the works. The freight handled by the railways in connection with the works represented one per cent of the whole freight business of the Dominion of Canada. Lumber, cement, and other industries felt the effects of the business, and the whole country was given an impetus.

No matter what government was in power, the country should do all in the power of the province to had been shipping the ores out of the province for treatment. Then a new order of things had come into the world, and the mines, and the largest refining works in the world had been established, giving a population to Trail of some 8,000 people.

It is an glad that you applauded that," said the speaker, as the audience greeted his words with hand clapping. "Start tomorrow morning. Buy B.C. products, even if you pay a little more for them."

He favored the turning of attention to the raising in the province of what the province needed for its own use first, and then reach out to find new markets elsewhere. In this connection he gave instances where attention could be riveted in this way.

LESSON FROM ACROSS LINE

The example of Washington State afforded examples of what could be done. Last year that state was shipping a car of asparagus a day in the season to Toronto. Why not study the condition and invade that market from here?

The records showed that in 1924 there were 30,000 crates of asparagus shipped from that state. In 1920 this total rose to 75,000 crates, while in 1922 the first carload lot was shipped.

In the Puyallup Valley there were 19,100 tons of raspberries, blackberries, and strawberries shipped out.

EGG PRODUCTION In the egg production in seven years the situation had changed from the importing of 150 cars into the state to 1,500 going out. The total annual production from poultry had come up to twenty millions.

Since 1920 the Washington Co-operative Egg and Poultry Association had increased its business by twelve hundred per cent. By a system of close grading the price had been increased until that increase about paid for the freight. In 1917 there were 115 members of the Association, and this increased last year to 7500 members.

Dr. Tolmie advised for this province the lowering of the taxes as far as possible; to increase the prosperity in the country to the fullest, and keep the young men at home; and keep the dollar circulating, and thus get the most out of it.

FAILURE FACES FLYERS' EFFORTS

Must Stay Up Twelve Hours to Make Endurance Record—Gasoline May Be Inefficient

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—Roaming through the airways of the state since 8:23 Sunday morning, the crew of the huge tri-motor monoplane Spirit of California kept the craft in the air to-night with high hopes of setting a new endurance flight record.

The monoplane was running with motors idled down tonight as it approached the thirty-sixth hour of the flight. As it approached the fortieth hour of the flight at 10:25 p.m., the aviators radioed a message to The San Francisco Chronicle saying, "Everything going fine," but announcing they were being forced to higher altitude on account of six currents. The gasoline consumption there would be higher, the message said, and with less than 200 gallons left from the original 410, the aviators feared the plane would be unable to remain aloft more than six hours longer.

Heavy gasoline consumption during the day caused some alarm that an exhausted fuel supply might eventually force the plane down before it passed the endurance record of fifty-one hours, twenty-two minutes and thirty-one seconds.

During the day the plane cruised with Lieut. George R. Pond and Capt. Charles Kingsford Smith, of Australia, alternating at the controls. At 5:37 tonight a message was radioed saying one of the generators was out of order, but this condition would not prevent the crew from remaining on the endurance effort. In order to equal the present record the Spirit of California must remain aloft until 12:46 p.m. tomorrow.

DE-TATTOOER WANTS TO COME

ONE-SPEED STREETS IS PLAN

Proposal that a definite rate of speed be set for each of Glasgow's narrow streets, has been made by A. D. Smith, chief constable of the Scottish city. He would determine the speed according to the type of traffic carried. By keeping separate the speeders and the laggards, he says, much of Glasgow's traffic problem would be solved.

ARCHBISHOP'S HEALTH

LONDON, Dec. 19.—There is not the slightest anticipation of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Dr. Randall Thomas Davidson, resigning the Archbishopric if he keeps his present health. The possibility of his resignation, it is said, has not been discussed in any responsible quarter.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, who is eighty years of age, was deeply disappointed by the House of Commons, in view of his age and his disappointment, might resign at an early date.

Annual Meeting of St. John Ambulance Association Stresses Progress in This Province

REVIEW OF 1927 WORK IN B. C.

The following have been elected officers of the British Columbia Council, St. John Ambulance Association, for the ensuing year: Patron, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Hon. W. C. Nichol; president, Hon. William Sloan; vice-president, Mr. G. G. Penneck; hon. secretary, Mr. A. J. Dallan; hon. treasurer, Mr. G. H. Stevens; executive committee, Mr. S. J. Hall, Col. Lorne Drum, C.M.G., Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Dr. A. B. Hudson, Dr. Brydson-Jack, Mr. W. Fulton, Mrs. R. N. Peile, Mr. F. H. Bates and Mr. H. W. Edwards; honorary members, Mr. W. G. Murray, vice-president B.C. Electric Railway Co., Vancouver; Mr. John Hunt, general manager Western Fuel Co., Nanaimo; Mr. S. G. Blaylock, vice-president C.M.P. of B.C.; Trail, hon. auditor, Mr. H. W. Edwards.

The annual report of the British Columbia Council, St. John Ambulance Association, presented by Mr. A. J. Dallan, honorary secretary, is as follows:

I am pleased to be able to report that the keen interest in the work of the Association shown last year, has been well sustained, as will be noted by the statistics at the end hereof. It is regrettable that owing to lack of finances, the British Columbia Council is at present unable to spread the work as it desires. The benefits that would be obtained by the expenditure of a few hundred dollars in disseminating the knowledge of First Aid and Home Nursing throughout the province, are obvious, and while it is well-known that the demands on those in a position to help are innumerable, it is felt that if the work of the Association were better understood, financial assistance would readily be given.

MOTOR TRAFFIC
The necessity for the knowledge of First Aid by all motorists is being brought to their attention by the appalling number of serious accidents, and it is hoped that the time is not far distant when it will be compulsory to possess a certificate in order to be granted a driver's licence, more particularly for buses, ambulances and hired cars.

CENTRES
The various centres all report that there is an increasing demand for lectures on First Aid and Home Nursing. This work is generously undertaken by the local members of the medical profession or those who have qualified as instructors.

POLICE
I regret I am unable to give any reliable figures of the number of accident cases attended by members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Provincial City and Municipal Police, but those cases which are reported in the press are sufficient to prove the value of experienced men able to render First Aid efficiently.

TEACHERS
It has frequently been suggested that as students of our Normal schools, after obtaining their diplomas, are spread out in different points throughout British Columbia, sometimes situated a considerable distance from medical aid, that the study of First Aid and Home Nursing should be included in the curriculum, and it is hoped that this will be done in the near future.

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS
The following have been recommended for life membership in the Association, by the general executive committee:

INTERMEDIATE CERTIFICATES
The attention of all centres is particularly drawn to the desirability of extending the issuance of intermediate certificates in accordance with the following rules:

Any person between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years, who attends a course of five out of six lectures in First Aid, senior course, and on examination obtains not less than fifty per cent of the total number of marks—that is, sixty out of 120, will be eligible for the intermediate certificate in First Aid to the injured.

The senior certificate may be obtained on the holder of an intermediate certificate, on attaining the age of eighteen years, upon re-examination without attendance upon a further course of lectures.

The charge for individual intermediate certificates to be twenty cents except when members of a class, where it is covered by the class fee.

It will now be possible for any one between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years to obtain a junior certificate in First Aid, to qualify for the intermediate certificate.

CERTIFICATES OF MERIT
Gold and silver medals are awarded by the Dominion Council for meritorious acts in First Aid by holders of First Aid certificates.

MERITORIOUS ACTS
The general executive committee, at the regular meeting held on the twelfth instant, passed the following recommendation of the Advisory Committee:

Your committee is of the opinion that the Canadian Branch should make provision for the general practice of First Aid to the sick and injured, and for this purpose would recommend that public recognition be made of exceptional acts where, by the rendering of "first aid," a man has been saved in an exceptional manner from accidental death.

It is recommended that the executive officer annually not more than two medals, the first award to be of gold, the second silver, similar in design to the one awarded to the holder of the certificate. It is further recommended that the executive officer should have the right to determine as to what awards, if any, shall be made in any one calendar year, but in no case shall it exceed the number above stated.

In any case, the awards shall only be made to certificate holders in First Aid for the St. John Ambulance Association.

HISTORY OF CLUB REVIEWED HERE

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, Founder of Alpine Club of Canada, Gives Sketch for Local Section of Organization

In connection with the announcement that next Summer's annual camp of the Alpine Club of Canada is to be held from July 17 to 31 at the Lake of the Hanging Glaciers, organized at the instance of Mr. A. O. Wheeler, founder of the club, and its director for twenty years, told through the history of the organization to the members of the local section at their meeting last week.

The Alpine Club of Canada was organized at Winnipeg in 1906. Winnipeg was chosen as a central point between East and West, and delegates came from both directions to organize. At the instance of Mr. William Whyte, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, passes were issued to all such delegates to enable them to attend the meeting at Winnipeg.

The club held its first annual camp at the summit of Yoho Pass four months afterward. Since then a camp has been held every year, on two occasions, two other camps: one in 1912 at Strathcona Park on Vancouver Island, and one at Mount Robson, in 1913.

A GOOD RECORD
The Alpine Club had a record that raised it to a place among the big Alpine clubs of the world. In 1909 it built its delightful clubhouse at Banff, its headquarters and visible outward sign; in the same year it had as its guests twenty members of the Alpine Club (England), the mother and leader of all Alpine clubs, who were entertained for three weeks—one at the clubhouse, one at the annual camp at Lake O'Hara Meadows, and one on a trip around the Yoho Valley, partly on the snowfields, glaciers and mountain crags above timber line, and partly through its primitive forests along more or less pony trails.

The result was that they joined the club as life members and later admitted the Alpine Club of Canada to affiliation with the English club, a high honor.

In 1911 the club organized an expedition to explore and map the little-known area of the Rainbow Mountains, as they were then called, of which Mount Robson is the chief. The expedition was made in collaboration with a party from the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, and lay through territory at that time most difficult to traverse. In 1912, at the invitation of the British Columbia Government, a party of club members went to Strathcona Park to investigate and report upon its notable features. A climb was made of one of the highest peaks and the name Elkhorn conferred upon it. Then came the Great War, which kept the club's activities very much curtailed, chiefly by its many members, to keep it active for the returned soldier members. The latest went went through to the men at the front did much to brighten their terrible days, and meetings of the members on service were even held within the lines.

Finally the Mount Logan expedition of 1925 conquered the highest Canadian mountain, 20,850 feet in altitude, thus spreading the fame of the club all over the world, and securing for MacCarthy, Foster, Lambert, Hall and Carpe the highest records of the club.

REPRESENTATIVE
Mr. Wheeler noted that in giving his little sketch of major achievements of the club, he was simply reminding them that the Alpine Club of Canada, though comparatively few in numbers—some 700—had wide representation through its eleven energetic sections, and was looked upon as the chief mountaineering representative of the Canadian mountain ranges.

"Members of the Alpine Club of Canada must not forget they are keeping alive and spreading abroad the knowledge and prestige of Canada's magnificent mountain heritage, and must think on a higher plane than that of mere self interest," said Mr. Wheeler.

Mr. Wheeler reported having recently attended a social gathering of the Vancouver section, a most enthusiastic and well-attended affair, which was climaxed by a lecture on mines and mining in the mountains by Dr. Campbell, a professor of the University of British Columbia.

He also commended the Vancouver Island section for its activities of the past Summer and Fall, these showing an increasing demand for out-door recreation of this kind.

HISTORY OF CLUB REVIEWED HERE

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, Founder of Alpine Club of Canada, Gives Sketch for Local Section of Organization

In connection with the announcement that next Summer's annual camp of the Alpine Club of Canada is to be held from July 17 to 31 at the Lake of the Hanging Glaciers, organized at the instance of Mr. A. O. Wheeler, founder of the club, and its director for twenty years, told through the history of the organization to the members of the local section at their meeting last week.

The Alpine Club of Canada was organized at Winnipeg in 1906. Winnipeg was chosen as a central point between East and West, and delegates came from both directions to organize. At the instance of Mr. William Whyte, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, passes were issued to all such delegates to enable them to attend the meeting at Winnipeg.

The club held its first annual camp at the summit of Yoho Pass four months afterward. Since then a camp has been held every year, on two occasions, two other camps: one in 1912 at Strathcona Park on Vancouver Island, and one at Mount Robson, in 1913.

A GOOD RECORD
The Alpine Club had a record that raised it to a place among the big Alpine clubs of the world. In 1909 it built its delightful clubhouse at Banff, its headquarters and visible outward sign; in the same year it had as its guests twenty members of the Alpine Club (England), the mother and leader of all Alpine clubs, who were entertained for three weeks—one at the clubhouse, one at the annual camp at Lake O'Hara Meadows, and one on a trip around the Yoho Valley, partly on the snowfields, glaciers and mountain crags above timber line, and partly through its primitive forests along more or less pony trails.

CLARENCE YOUSON ADMITS HIS GUILT

Youth Remanded Until Today for Sentence for Passing Three Worthless Cheques Here

Pleading guilty to three separate charges of passing cheques which he knew to be forged, Clarence Youson was remanded in the city police court yesterday by Magistrate George Jay until today for sentence.

Youson elected summary trial on all charges, and without hesitation admitted his guilt in each case. When asked if he had anything to say, he offered no defence or explanation for his action.

The accused gave one cheque for $25 to J. W. Davis, cashed one cheque for $10.50 with Roy Pitzer on December 15, and another with B. H. Fowler for $9.72 on December 13. All the cheques were forgeries.

Youson gave a different address to each of three with whom he cashed his worthless cheques. The accused approached Mr. Pitzer twice, and on the second occasion he had a friend along with him who backed his declaration that his cheque was good.

City Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison said that Youson had a police record, the accused having been convicted in the juvenile court on October 23, 1926, on a charge of breaking and entering premises, and was allowed out on suspended sentence.

MAN IS HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Charles Gould Says He Doesn't Remember Incident—Will Be Heard Today

Charles Gould was arraigned in the city police court yesterday before Magistrate George Jay to face a charge of breaking and entering the premises of C. James, 927 Green Street, and committing theft.

The accused, who was arrested on Saturday night by Chief of Police John Fry, Constable James Strong and Detectives Marcus Phipps and William Stark, following a hot chase, elected summary trial.

His Honor asked Gould if he pleaded guilty or not guilty. "I have nothing to say. I have no recollection of it at all," responded Gould.

City Prosecutor Harrison stated that he had a number of witnesses to call, and suggested that the case be remanded until this morning, when the hearing will commence. The court ordered an adjournment until 10 a.m. today.

William Stark pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving his automobile to the common danger on Hillside Avenue on December 11, and the case was remanded until this morning for hearing.

MR. F. C. PINK PASSES AWAY

Well Known in Printing Circles for Many Years—Was Vice-President of Local Branch of I.T.U.

Mr. Fred C. Pink, vice-president of the Victoria Local of the International Typographical Union, died yesterday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He had been confined to the institution for about three weeks, a complication of diseases making his recovery doubtful.

Mr. Pink, who had reached the age of about sixty years, was a native of the county of Hampshire, England, being brought out as a child to Ontario, where he learned his craft as a printer. He came to British Columbia some thirty years ago, and was employed on the mechanical staff as a linotype operator successively in Kamloops, Vancouver and Victoria. He came to The Colonist more than twenty years ago, and then transferred to the Times, where he had been engaged for a number of years, being regarded as one of the best operators in the city.

This year his colleagues in the I.T.U. elected him one of the two Victoria delegates to the seventy-second convention at Indianapolis, and on his return he took occasion to visit old friends in Western Ontario on his way home.

Mr. Pink is survived by his widow, the family residence being at 1107 McKenzie Street.

The body has been moved to the B. C. Funeral Co. premises, pending interment arrangements being made today for interment.

COL. W. W. FOSTER WILL SPEAK HERE

"The Retreat From Mons" will be the theme of an address to be given by Colonel W. W. Foster, of Vancouver, at the Empress Hotel, on Thursday at 7:30 p.m., at the first meeting of the United Services Institution of Vancouver Island.

Formed at an organization meeting held on Thursday, December 1, the new body has a membership of over one hundred, while new enrolments are being received daily. What Is Worn on the Stage

Spanish and Chinese Influences in Some of Most Striking Stage Creations—Feathers and Fringe Worn

Though the stage is not always so helpful as it might be for displaying modern frocks, the crop of recent plays has many good ideas to offer to those who take an interest in dress, says an article in The London Times.

In "The Squall" at the Globe, the setting and the dressing are entirely Spanish. The beauty of the shawls is notable. Miss Mary Clare wears a succession of rare old shawls over her black frocks, which are made with long skirts. Her first frock is of black bossed georgette, ankle length, which shows her white stockings; it is half tight-fitting, and flows in long lines at the back with a veiled tabard fall from the shoulder. Her first shawl has gorgeous colored embroideries on a black background and later she has a rare shawl of apricot tones with great red flowers boldly embroidered. Another shawl, worn in the second act, is of burgundy and black, and all over in the same tone. These are all worn draped in the correct Spanish fashion and almost cover the dress over which they are arranged. Her lace mantilla is mounted on a high comb, and she wears a big bunch of red roses tucked behind her ear. Her sleek style of hairdressing with the hair brought tight around the head and rolled in a little bun at the back would be trying for those whose features are not clear-cut.

CHARMING PICTURE FROCKS
Picture frocks of an old-world beauty are to be seen in "Cyrano de Bergerac," where Mrs. Loraine, as the fair Roxane, has some beautiful dresses of stiff materials that set in billowy lines and make a series of gracious period pictures. They are, in fact, faithful copies. The first is copied from a painting of Lady Mary Sidney in 1615, and is made of stiff taffeta, in pale blue opening over a pink underdress, and has long pink and blue sleeves reaching to the floor. There are quaint epaulettes on the shoulders, like those on a man's coat. In the scene at Egeuena's shop she has a mauve taffeta dress with the sleeves flared in cream organdie and a point lace collar on the bodice. With this she wears a masquerade cape in mauve velvet lined with pink silk. Her prettiest dress is in the balcony scene; it is of golden peach faille with no trimming but pearls, which are set an inch apart, the large puffed sleeves have trails of pearls to keep them in place. The widow's dress in the last act is a wan and ghostly gown of grey taffeta with black lace and white epaulettes.

IN "HIT THE DECK"
"Hit the Deck" at the Hippodrome is a well-dressed show. Miss Ivy Tremand wears a succession of pretty frocks; an attractive afternoon frock of blue corded chambrase has a novel neckline which is cut to a point at the left hand side; there is a small blue collar edged with eury point lace and finished with a jabot. The skirt is made with double tiers and has a horseshoe-shaped buckle at the waist and smaller buckle appears on the matching hat. Her evening gown of white tulle is soft and frilly and is made with a skirt of tiers on tiers of tiny frills. The bodice is close-fitting and embroidered in diamante in a delicate leaf design and there is a dash of shot pink taffeta. The evening gowns are notably good; and Miss Nancy Pawley has an effective one of deep green over an underdress of silver lame; the skirt is of a trelliswork design in handwoven silk fringe bordered with a deep fringe. With this she wears a pale silver lame cloak with a fox collar and cuffs. She has a white and black maroon day dress; the black being strapped on one side, which gives an effect of rays. The most beautiful dresses are those worn in the Chinese set which are like Chinese dolls and some of the girls who wore them went to the trouble of making up to resemble the wax faces seen on such dolls.

FEATHER FROCKS
In "The Girl from Cook's," at the Gaiety, the exhibition dancer Hilda's first frock is stranded in blue ostrich feather, and her sleeves have floating feathers which look well in swift motion. But the wonderful things of her skirts were a novel decoration and in her whirlwind dancing the black being strapped on one side, which gives an effect of rays. The most beautiful dresses are those worn in the Chinese set which are like Chinese dolls and some of the girls who wore them went to the trouble of making up to resemble the wax faces seen on such dolls.

The Mirror of the Mode

By MARY MARSHALL

THE slipover raincoat is the last word in rainy weather apparel. The slight advantage that it offers in the way of security against rain may be offset by the added convenience of putting it on and off. But it is smart, and to be smartly dressed in rainy weather is the ambition of every up-to-date woman nowadays.

The slipover raincoat may be seen in white, auburn, or green with green leather collar. The buttons and hat are also of green.

front drapery is worn by slim Miss Mildred Wayne, and quiet, fluffy clothes are worn by the good little girl, acted by Miss Miriam Seagar. She has a pale pink chiffon afternoon frock with floating sleeves and a blue and white check skirt. In the police inspector's office she wears a very pretty frock of bright navy georgette.

PUPILS SCORE NEW LAURELS

ESQUIMALT SCHOOL CHILDREN PRESENT THE OPERETTA, "MISS CHRYSANTHEMUM"

Members of Clever Cast Greeted With Prolonged Applause—To Repeat Performance Tonight

The acting of the pupils in their respective roles was most commendable, and the appreciation of the audience was indicated in no uncertain manner. Congratulations were extended to the members of the cast, and also to the teachers of the school, the latter training the pupils to the highest degree of proficiency in the production of the playlet.

THE OPERETTA

The operetta opened with a great feat being held in honor of the coming of age of the Emperor Whal-for-Whi's daughter, Princess Chrysanthemum. She was loved by Prince So-Tru, and returned his affection; but he had a rival in the person of Prince So-Sil, who sought the aid of Saucer-Eyes, the Wizard Cat, who carried off the Princess to the Cave of Inky Night, leaving the Emperor and Prince So-Tru distracted at her strange disappearance.

In the second act, Princess Chrysanthemum, imprisoned in the Cave of Inky Night, with the aid of a magic ring, summoned Fairy Moonbeam, who was about to help her when she dropped the ring, and could not find it. Fairy Moonbeam disappeared at the loss of the ring, and the unhappy Princess was left to bewail her fate. Prince So-Tru managed to obtain entrance to the cave and found the magic ring which caused Fairy Moonbeam to return and help him. At this moment, the Emperor arrived with his attendants and took Saucer-Eyes prisoner, bearing him in triumph to the palace.

Threatened with torture in the final act, Saucer-Eyes confessed the complicity of Prince So-Sil, whom the Emperor ordered to instant execution. This, however, was frustrated by the appearance of Princess Chrysanthemum, accompanied by Prince So-Tru, Fairy Moonbeam and her band. The Emperor pardoned Saucer-Eyes and Prince So-Sil at the request of the Princess, and gave her hand in marriage to Prince So-Tru, thus bringing everything to a happy conclusion.

THE CHARACTERS

The characters in the operetta were: Ruby Dunnett, Princess Chrysanthemum; Gertrude Thomas, To-To; Emily McDuff, Yum-Yum; Kathleen White, Du-Du; Kathleen Glass, Tu-Lip; Mona Morgan, Fairy Moonbeam; Geoffrey Redgrave, Emperor Whal-for-Whi; John Davies, Prince So-Tru; A. Walker, Prince So-Sil; Frank Hollins, Top-Not, the Court Chamberlain; and Stanley Poock, Saucer-Eyes, the Wizard Cat. Dances and choruses by pupils who took the roles of sprites of the night, courtiers, populace, attendant fairies, etc., were ably executed and elicited well-deserved applause.

NEW SYSTEM FOR CITY ESTIMATES

Alderman Holmes' Resolution Passes—May Mean Earlier Striking of Mill Rate

A new system of dealing with the city's annual estimates will be instituted next year as a result of the passage of a resolution introduced to the council by Alderman H. C. Holmes.

Under the new system estimates will be submitted under three headings. The first heading will contain eighty-five per cent of the total estimates for 1927. The next heading will contain the balance remaining between the eighty-five per cent and the rest of the 1927 expenditures, and third heading will contain other suggested expenditures.

Alderman Holmes said it was essential that the time taken in the past in dealing with estimates be cut down. The city would be marketing a $600,000 refunding issue in March, and bonds for various industries that the city had guaranteed would also be placed on the market.

A great deal would depend on the city's levy for the year as to how these bond issues would be received, therefore it was to the city's advantage to strike the tax rate earlier in the year. Alderman Holmes also pointed out that it gave large property holders more time in which to provide for the tax when they knew earlier in the year what the levy would be.

THE Gas Age Record of May 31 reports the results of a survey of a middle western city of more than half a million people to find out where the buying public received its inspiration for their purchasing. The question was asked what form of advertising influenced them most—magazine, street car, billboard or newspaper. In order to be fair, newspapers were put at the end of the list. The results were as follows:

orange blossoms, carrying a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and maidenhair fern, entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her attendant was Miss May Gidney, of Victoria, dressed in tangerine crepe de Chine and black satin hat, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. The groom was supported by Mr. Samuel E. Haight, of Victoria. The prettily-appointed wedding cake and lighted with candelabra, was presided over by Miss E. H. Wace and Miss R. R. Newton, assisted by the Misses Jessie Simpson and Mabel Blake. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls, to the bride a brooch set with pearls, to the best man a pearl tie pin. The many beautiful and useful presents showed the high esteem in which the bride is held. Later in the day the young couple left by motor for Victoria, where they will make their home.

New Year's Eve Frolic Will Help Children

The last frolic of the old year will be staged on New Year's Eve at the Sons of Canada Hall, 751 View Street. The hall will be decorated and all the settings will be in keeping with the occasion, the bidding of farewell to 1927.

An excellent programme has been planned for the occasion, singing, dancing, special acts, fun and frolic will make the affair a fitting exit to the old year.

Apart from the benefit that will accrue to the Children's Aid Home anyone purchasing a ticket for the affair will receive far more than his money's worth in entertainment.

Tickets are going at a good rate and are for sale at Levy's Cigar Store, Morris' Cigar Store, and Steele's Cigar Store, and also at the National Motors.

COLONY CREATOR RETIRES

After serving fifty-two years as missionary in South Africa, Rev. Robert Laws, of Aberdeen, Scotland, who created Nyassaland, has just retired. He first opened the Mission of the Free Church of Scotland in Livingstonia, in Central Africa. He is credited with civilizing the savage tribes of the desert, teaching them carpentry, bricklaying and building, establishing churches and schools, introducing a modern system of electricity, and generally transforming a barren region into fruit orchards and grain fields. Doctor Laws' name is second in Africa only to Livingstonia. He is seventy-six.

CANADIAN TO GET CHANCE AT FLYWEIGHT CROWN

Frenchy Belanger Outpoints Jarvis In Torrid Battle

Gains Recognition as Champion of National Boxing Association and Will Meet Corporal Schwartz for World's Championship

TORONTO, Dec. 19.—Frenchy Belanger, of Toronto, gained the flyweight championship of the National Boxing Association tonight by outpointing Ernie Jarvis, of London, in a twelve-round title struggle. Belanger, 110 pounds, Jarvis 111½.

Belanger was forced to a stiff battle before receiving the judges' awards. He floored Jarvis in the first round and he knocked down himself in a furious mixup in the eleventh round. The Toronto boxer was continually the aggressor and gave the English lad little chance to go far in his spurts.

Belanger varied his attack from rights to the head to left hooks to the body, which at times forced Jarvis almost helplessly along the ropes. However, Jarvis battled pluckily against his hard-hitting opponent and, with a terrific offensive in the eleventh round, did much to counterbalance the Toronto youth's scores.

FRENCHY BELANGER

TO MEET SCHWARTZ

While Belanger is the acclaimed titleholder of the flyweight championship of the N.B.A., the New York State Athletic Commission recognizes Corporal Schwartz, of New York, on the basis of his victory over Newby Brown, of Slous City, Ia., last Friday. Schwartz wired authorities today he would meet Belanger in a ten-round bout to clear up the flyweight situation.

Phil Rivers, Toronto, 134½ pounds, defeated Jean Blau, Paris, France, 133 pounds, in the sixth round of the curtain raiser.

133 pounds, in the sixth round of the curtain raiser. Bobby Booth, Toronto, 130½ pounds, knocked out Jack Jones, Hamilton, 129 pounds, in the second round of a six-round bout. Jones was floored three times before the referee stepped in.

Victor Wainz, Paris, France, 137½ pounds, knocked out Bert Hillier, St. Catharines, Ont., 159½ pounds, in the fifth of a six-round bout.

KNOCKDOWN HURTS FOLEY'S CHANCES

Takes Count of Eight and Carter Gets Decision—Davies Draws With Sailor Gordon

VANCOUVER, Dec. 19.—A knockdown for the count of eight in the last minute of fighting, lost Vic Foley any possible chance he might have had to pull out with a draw against Wildcat Carter, of Vancouver, in the ten-round event of the Auditorium card tonight. The dark boy had piled up a respectable margin of points when the final round rolled around. Carter outsped and outpunched the Vancouver veteran, and there wasn't a chance for the officials to go wrong on the call.

While the main event was a busy affair, it didn't cause much of a stir when the final round rolled around. Carter outsped and outpunched the Vancouver veteran, and there wasn't a chance for the officials to go wrong on the call.

NORWEGIAN PUTS GERMAN FIGHTER AWAY IN SECOND

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Otto Van Porat, Norwegian heavyweight champion, ruined whatever hopes Ted Sandvina, German titleholder, had of progressing in the championship ranks by knocking him out in the second round of a scheduled eight-round fight at the Coliseum tonight. The battle was one of seven staged for Christmas charity for which more than $50,000 was realized.

Prince of Wales Wins At Squash Racquets

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The Prince of Wales won his first round match in the Royal Navy squash racquets tournament at the Royal Automobile Club. The Prince, playing a good game, defeated Lieut. A. F. DeSails, three games to two, the score being 10-8, 9-3, 3-9, 7-9, 9-3.

Martinez Wins Decision

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—Hilario Martinez, lightweight champion of Spain, won a judges' decision over Billie Algiers, of Phoenix, Ariz., in a ten-round bout here tonight. Martinez weighed 141½ and Algiers 144.

Exeter Downs Weston

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Exeter defeated Weston-super-Mare in a Rugby Union match over the weekend by 15-6.

Ruth Particular About Autographing

By AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants) Babe Ruth is a good fellow, but he wants it clearly understood that he is the champ, the King of Swat. Lou Gehrig ran considerable competition for the Bambino this summer, but Lou was the pupil and Babe the master.

Whenever anyone wanted baseball autographs, they did well to ask Ruth to sign before Gehrig. After Babe had signed, the person could say, "Now, won't you sign, Mr. Gehrig, too?" But if Gehrig signed first, Ruth would not sign.

If several members of the team were signing baseballs, they left a certain spot of prominence for Ruth. Nobody signed in that space, or Ruth would not affix his signature. "No, that's saved for Ruth," the ball players would say. "If that spot isn't there, he won't sign."

MOOSE JAW TAKES LEAD IN PRAIRIE ICE HOCKEY LOOP

SASKATOON, Dec. 19.—Johnny Matz goal in the second period ushered Moose Jaw Maroons into a 1-0 victory over Saskatoon Sheiks here tonight. The win places Moose Jaw in undisputed possession of first place on the Prairie circuit standing, three points ahead of the locals, who are in second position.

FORMER B.C. PRO TO GO TO BERMUDA

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—William "Wee Willie" MacLean, former Vancouver and Calgary golf professional, will leave here Friday for Bermuda, where he has been engaged for the winter. MacLean, who has built up a good reputation in the United States as a trick golfer, left Canada about five years ago. He has equaled par on several difficult courses, only using a putter and driving only with his left hand.

City to Practice

Victoria City Soccer Club will hold a practice tonight at 8 o'clock in the Veterans of France. All players are asked to turn out.

HARD GROUNDS HAMPER SOCCER

Frost in Old Country Makes Footing Uncertain and Farical Football Results in All Games

CAMELL SCORES HIS 100TH GOAL

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Frosty grounds which prevailed for almost all the football games in the British Isles on Saturday made the matches almost farical in places. The players slipped and fell constantly and nothing approaching scientific team work was possible.

Of the English First Division matches, two stand out. Everton's maintenance of their winning streak and the astonishing lapse of Newcastle United on their own grounds. Portsmouth beat the Novocastrians in a blinding snowstorm.

Cameell, of Middlesbrough, joined the circle of select footballers who have scored their century of goals in league fixtures.

35,000 SEE EVERTON WIN

Everton are now well out in front of the league averages. Saturday, before a home crowd of 35,000, they played like champions, with superb dash and confidence.

Tottenham Hotspurs continued to make headway in the league standing at White Hart Lane before 25,000 people. Their victims were Liverpool. Chelsea put the Spurs ahead with a brilliant shot in the second minute of play. Jackson equalized before the interval.

Elks placed the Spurs in their winning position soon after the turn round and repeated just before the end.

Portsmouth led by two goals to one at half-time through counters registered by Watson and a forward. Macdonald scored for the Northmen. Cook scored Portsmouth's third goal twelve minutes from time. That was Portsmouth's first win in twelve weeks.

PLAY ERRATIC FOOTBALL

Cardiff City should not have been defeated by Bury. The cupholders played a most erratic game. The teams had more than three minutes to go when there was only a minute to go. Then Amos scored and Bury headed in a most astonishing goal for Bury.

Blackburn Rovers scored their first goal in four matches and beat Sheffield United with it. It was got by Heslop.

Manchester United had a field day at home at the expense of the Arsenal. The game was even at half-time. Spence netting for the United and Wilson, through his goal, from Hulme's shot, for the Arsenal. After the turn round, Partridge, McPherson and Hancs scored for Manchester in quick succession.

Derby County and Middlesbrough staged a desperately played-out draw at Derby, with lots of scoring. Derby led at half-time by the goals of Stephenson and Crooks.

Huddersfield Town, at home to Leicester City, had things pretty well their own way. Brown scored twice and Kelly once for the Town in the first half. Chandler got Leicester's goal.

HAMMOND, SUTCLIFFE SAVE MARYLEBONE XI WITH FINE INNINGS

JOHANNESBURG, S.A., Dec. 19.—The match between the Marylebone Cricket Club's touring team and Transvaal ended in a draw today. The M.C.C. team had a narrow escape. Saturday, they started their second innings seventy runs in arrears.

Sutcliffe started the Englishmen off on the right leg with a fifty-seven. Today Hammond, the Gloucestershire batsman, who only found his form last week, played in wonderful form, piling up a score of 132.

Scores: M.C.C., first innings, 120; second innings, 300 for nine wickets, total, 480. Transvaal, first innings, 199; second innings, 180 for three wickets, total, 382.

DALHOUSIE TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Will Arrive From Vancouver on Wednesday—Mainlanders Plan Entertainment for Easterners

VANCOUVER, Dec. 19.—Plans for the entertainment of the visiting Dalhousie rugby players were made at Monday's meeting of the Vancouver Rugby Union. The Nova Scotians are on their way from Halifax, and are expected to reach the city Friday morning. In the afternoon the visitors will hold their first workout at Brockton Point. In the evening they will attend the hockey match between Monarchs and Exeter at the Vancouver Ice Palace.

Saturday morning will be devoted to another practice, and in the afternoon the boys will be driven about the city and over the variety grounds. A party will be arranged for the evening. Christmas dinners will be arranged by Variety.

The Easterners will be taken on a special launch Monday to watch the Goodsell-Barry championship sculling race. The opening game with Variety will be played at 3 o'clock. After the match a tea-dance will be staged at the Vancouver Rowing Club.

The visitors will be on their own Tuesday morning, but in the afternoon the Dalhousie Alumni will arrange a drive to the Grouse Mountain Chalet. That night the boys will leave for Victoria, where they will remain two days.

An all-day trip to a logging camp will occupy December 30, and the following day the visitors will stack up against Vancouver Rovers at Brockton Point. The final game is billed for January 2, and a farewell banquet will be staged in the evening. The players are starting their long jaunt home January 3.

Henri Cochet Beaten By Youthful Marvel

LYONS, France, Dec. 19.—Henri Cochet has suffered his first tennis defeat since he returned with the triumphant Davis Cup team from the United States last September. The latest French marvel, seventeen-year-old Georges Boyson, defeated him 6-2, 8-10, 6-6. This was Cochet's first tournament in his home town since 1926. He now resides in Paris.

Experts say Boyson's victory was no fluke. They point out that he reached the finals by defeating Donald Greig, ranking English player, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

"Too many receptions and too rich home-cooked foods," Cochet said, without apologizing for his defeat.

Dalhousie Rugger Have Special Car

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 19.—The football team of Dalhousie University, Halifax, which is to play a series of games with the University of British Columbia in Vancouver during the Christmas and New Year holidays, will arrive in Winnipeg over the Canadian National Railway Tuesday night and leave the same evening for the West. There are twenty-two people in the party, and they are occupying a special car.

As far as is known, this is the latest date in any year that a Rugby team has travelled through Western Canada to play.

Wednesday Soccer Off

On account of the stores being open tomorrow all Wednesday League soccer games have been cancelled. It is doubtful if the teams will resume play until after the New Year. No holiday games have been arranged.

REYS ELBOW ON CHAMPION'S CHANCES OF BEING VICTOR

By SOL METZGER

Joshua Crane, former polo and racket star and a keen student of every phase of golf, has perfected, in addition to his scientific method of rating golf holes, a one-handed putter with which he plays exceedingly well. I have watched him stroking the ball.

There is a good deal of sound sense in the idea. First place, Crane eliminates any chance to throw his putter off line by body movement, as he rests his left hand on his left knee and his right elbow on his right knee. He can also get far enough over the ball to almost sight the line. As the club is quite short the matter of balance and weight, which often upset a putt, are pretty nearly eliminated.

Crane strokes the putt with his left finger down the rear of the shaft. That is sound, as Mrs. Alexia Stirling Fraser, of Toronto, former United States women's champion, has proven in many a hard match. The idea is novel and well worth a good try out this winter in case one has been putting poorly and has no chance to get on the links in cold weather. A rug or carpet will supply the green and any of the simple indoor putting devices, the cup. Tomorrow we will take a look at a novel kind of tournament. Britain has been promoting to help regain its lost golf prestige.

VICTORIA CITY IS FINED $25

B.C.F.A. Rules Barnswell Ineligible and Assesses Club—No Action on Cameron

GAME WITH WESTS ORDERED REPLAYED

The protest of Victoria West against Victoria City in their Provincial Cup match, lodged by the former club because of ineligible players, was heard at a special meeting of the B.C.F.A. held in the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday morning.

The hearing centred around two of the City players, Alex Cameron and Barney Barnswell, and while no action was taken against the playing of the former player, the provincial association ruled that the sixteen-year-old juvenile should not have been played, and fined the City club $25 on that count.

It was decided to have the game replayed next Saturday. It is expected that both clubs will be at full strength since the action of the association does not deprive the City of the services of either player. The match will be played at the Royal Athletic Park, with Dave Swan handling the whistle. The kick-off is set for 2:15 o'clock, with half an hour's overtime in case of a tie.

Saanich Thistles and Five C's will meet in the first round of the Milson Cup series at Beacon Hill at 2:30 p.m. Last week the churchmen went down to a 7-0 defeat at the hands of the Saanich boys in a Combination Cup match. They are expected to field a stronger team on Saturday, as defeat will put them out of the running, in view of the fact that the cup is played under a knock-out system.

"When Fights Were Fights"; The Famous "Kid" Lavigne's Memoirs of a Savage Ring

By GEORGE (KID) LAVIGNE
Former lightweight champion of the world, whose many victories included two over Joe Walcott and one over England's famous champion, Dick Burse.
An tale in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.

Just how much the fearful grind of my second battle with Joe Walcott had taken out of me I realized in my next fight with "William Jack" Daly at Cleveland. Daly's real name was Cornelius T. Moriarty. He was almost a "Philadelphia lightweight" in size, although he made 137 for me. He was four inches taller than I, a muscular, fast, rugged boxer. Liquor, as well as the punishment of the Walcott battle, had much to do with cutting short my fighting career. Many a row I had with my brother Billy over my love for drink.

"What am I going to do with you?" he would bawl at me in anger, when he found me slouching the booze, when I should have been training. "Must I have you fighting in jail to keep you sober?" I hasten to add that for years, now, I have not touched one drop of intoxicants, and I never again. It's a game no one can beat, and anyone is a sucker to try it. Booze cost me a fortune. Daly and I met in 1898. I had split with my old manager, Sam Fitzpatrick, and he was in Daly's corner. He had trained Jack for the fight and was there to show him how to beat me. "Kid" McCoy was the referee.

OLD-TIME BOUNCE GONE
I fought a listless sort of scrap. I simply was not there with the old-time bounce and iron vigor. There was no spring in my legs and my timing was off. The minute's rest between rounds seemed far too short, for the first time in my life. Several times I tried to get going, but it was no use.

Still, I gave Daly plenty of punishment. He was badly hurt at times. I also took plenty. The decision was rightly a draw, at the end of twenty rounds.

A few weeks later I met Daly again at Philadelphia, for six rounds. There was no decision. Again the result was about even. I had to admit I was no longer the Saginaw terror, a tireless man of steel. I began drinking harder than ever.

Then came my first meeting with smart Frank Erne, at Coney Island, in September, 1898. Erne was a graceful boxer, a crafty ringster and he could sock. Against him I found myself, once more, unable to strike my natural pace. The best I could do was to make it a draw after twenty rounds.

By this time some of my readers may have found themselves wondering why I never met Joe Gans, the great Philadelphia colored lightweight. The fact is that Gans refused to meet me. This has never been printed before. And I want to say I was glad he didn't care to fight me.

NEITHER WANTED THIS FIGHT
After the Erne fight I went home to Saginaw, and left Billy in the East. He got back home a week later, and told me of stopping over in Pittsburgh, where he met Al Herford, manager of Gans. He said they discussed a match between Gans and me.

"Let Gans alone," I shouted. "There are plenty of white boys around for me to fight." Billy suddenly cut in on my protests. "Quit your ravings," he growled. "Gans refused to meet you."

Gans would have taken the championship from me at that time had he known my condition, but apparently my victories over Walcott and Dick Burge had awed him. In 1906, Gans and I met for a three-round boxing exhibition in Detroit at the Gaiety Theatre. Of his marvelous skill, plenty has been written. Gans was a crafty ringster and a gentlemanly fellow. I don't want to take any glory away from him, but I can't help feeling there has been a tendency to overrate him.

At the risk of seeming ungenerous to one who is dead, I venture the opinion that Gans was not the equal of McAuliffe, Walcott, Battling Nelson or Ad Wolgast. Joe Gans was twice beaten by Nelson and twice by Erne, and these defeats were when he was in his prime. There was no fake about these fights. They were long and tough struggles.

My last fight in 1898 was against Tommy Tracey, a famous Australian welterweight. We met at San Francisco for twenty rounds. Tracey was a rangy, shifty boxer, and he was a hitter. I couldn't corner him for a knock-out. The best I could do was to get the decision.

I was matched with "Mysterious Billy" Smith, and for the first time since I started boxing, the decision went against me.

(In the next instalment of the last of this series of fifteen articles by Kid Lavigne, he describes the fights which closed his brilliant ring career.)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 19.—Rallying on the last few holes after a weak start on his final eighteen, Leo Diegel, professional from the Peninsula Country Club, of New York, came home in seventy-five strokes to clinch first place in the $2,500 tournament at the San Diego Club yesterday, with a total of 67-72-75-214.

Bobby Cruickshank, with a card of 71-71-74-216, and Horton Smith, of Sprague, Mo., who shot 70-71-75-216, shared second place honors.

Billy Burke, Florida professional, took third money with a total of 218 strokes, while Ed Dudley, of Hollywood, and Al Espinosa shared fourth place with totals of 221 each.

F. Walsh and Mortie Dutra, the F. Walsh and Mortie Dutra, finished next with 222 each.

LOSE PUTTING TOUCH
Diegel was not sure of his putts on the final round, and for a time it looked as if he would lose first place. Smith and Cruickshank cut his lead to one stroke, but both lost the touch of their putters on the last few holes, and lost all chance of gaining better than a tie for second place.

Larry Nabholz, Cleveland professional; Leonard Schmutte, of Lima, Ohio, and Tommy Armour, United States open champion, tied for last money, each getting a 223-total. Of the amateurs, E. G. "Speed" Martin, former Coast League pitcher, showed the way with a gross total of 220 and net 215. Allan Moser, Wilshire Country Club, Los Angeles, finished second with a 230-total and won low net of 227 by a stroke from H. D. Stinkens, who only outplayed last among either the pros or amateurs in the tournament.

TO PLAY ON NEW COURSE
The same field will meet again Tuesday in the $1,500 La Jolla Country Club open tournament of thirty-six holes. This tournament will be the first major competition for the La Jolla course, which was opened for play only last month.

Diegel's victory won him first money of $1,000, while Bobby Cruickshank and Horton Smith shared second and third for $400 each. Burke won $200; Dudley and Espinosa, $125 each; Frank Walsh and Mortie Dutra, $75 each; and Nabholz, Schmutte and Armour, $33.33 apiece.

SCHAEFER WINS FIRST BLOCK

Scores 300 to Cochran's 211 in 18.2
Balk Line and Championship
—Titleholder Off Form

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, tonight won the first block of his 1,500-point match with Weiker Cochran, of Hollywood, for the world's 18.2 balk line billiard crown now held by the Californian. The score was 300 to 211.

The champion was badly off form and missed numerous chances to wipe out a lead Schaefer had established by running 148 in the sixth frame. It was a coincidence that Cochran chose the same frame to put together his best string of the night, a 66.

Schaefer's run of 148 was the best of the night and he also matched Cochran's high run with one of 65 in the seventh.

The first block of the match provided few sensational features. The next block will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Inning score:
Schaefer—0 0 22 2 148 65 11 4 2 32—300
Cochran—2 18 2 0 13 66 28 32 30 31 0—211
Averages—Schaefer, 25; Cochran, 19-2-11.

High runs—Schaefer, 148; Cochran, 66.

Rink Rats Hold Lead By Stopping Garrison

Retain Unbeaten Record in 3-1 Win Over Tommyies—Bapcos and Engineering School
Chalk Up Victory in Commercial Hockey

League Standing	W	L	Pts.
Rink Rats	6	0	12
Bapcos	5	1	10
Int. Engineering School	3	3	6
Plimley & Ritchie	2	4	4
United Com. Travelers	2	4	4
Garrison	0	6	0

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
Rink Rats 3, Garrison 1.
Bapcos 3, Plimley & Ritchie 1.
United Commercial Travelers 4, International Engineering School 2.

Rink Rats leaders in the Commercial Hockey League, kept their unbeaten record intact last night when they accounted for the Garrison in the first game of the evening by a score of 3-1. Bapcos, following right on the heels of the top dogs, retained their position by a 3-1 victory over Plimley & Ritchie in the feature tilt. United Commercial Travelers handed International Engineering School a surprise packet by defeating them 4-2. Last night's games marked the final appearance of the boys until January 9.

A two-goal advantage gained in the first period was sufficient to give the Rink Rats their 3-1 victory over the Garrison. Symons and Spouse found a hole in the Tommyies' net in the first canto. The second period, productive of plenty of close play, went scoreless. Putting up a determined fight in the last session, the Tommyies added pep to the argument when Parsons netted a goal. Symons, of the winners, however, discounted this tally a few seconds later. The teams were:

Rink Rats—Symons, Benwell, Pomeroy, Bates, Smart, Kirby, Spouse, Symons and Griffin.
Garrison—Allan, Maloney, Martin, Parsons, Langlois, Conroy, Caldwell, Charters and Vyse.

THIRD PERIOD RALLY
After holding the fast-moving Bapcos to a 1-1 score for two periods of good hockey, Plimley & Ritchie sextette fell by the wayside in the third period and allowed the painters to run in two additional goals. The losers opened the scoring after thirteen minutes of play in the first canto, when Smith scored on an individual effort.

"Red" Lawson, of the painters, put the teams on even terms thirty seconds later when he beat the defense to go in and score.

Fifteen minutes of fast play in the second canto failed to add to the count. From the face-off in the last session Lawson went down the ice and scored unassisted. Shortly following this counter, Lawson and Tyrell were sent to the bench for five minutes for mixing. McKenzie put the game on ice when he beat Bapcos with a long shot shortly before time. The teams were:

Bapcos—Westlake, McKenzie, Sparks, Woods, McPherson, Headache, Unwin, Lawson and Balcorn.
Plimley & Ritchie—Bacon, Locke, Russell, Davidson, Savanah, Davis, Tyrell, Cameron and Smith.

U.C.T. SET BACK SCHOOL
Two goals by Lambert in the second period, when the score was tied, gave the United Commercial Travelers a 4-2 victory over the International Engineering School. In the first canto Nicholson netted a pair of counters in quick succession to give the winners a two-goal lead, but before the end of the period the teams were put on an even basis when Bapcos and Simpson found the net for the students.

The third period went scoreless, with each of the nets being subjected to dangerous attacks. The teams were:

U.C.T.—Hunter, Watson, Wilson, Nicol, Lambert, Nicholson, Hicks, Radford and Gellings.
I.E.S.—Massey, McKay, McKay, Murray, Middleton, Bayless, Green, Simpson and Givens.
Jack McDonald refereed.

Previous to the first match the Cougarettes ladies' team defeated the girls' team 3-1 in the usual weekly exhibition game.

Few Are Able to Explode Ball
From Bunker Like McLeod; Lays
Many Shots Dead, Holes Others

Three Times in Nine Holes, Freddie Plays From Trap to Within Foot of Cup—Once But Inch Away

BY BUNKER
There is no more fascinating play in golf, either to make or to watch, than the explosion shot. Let us say that the bunker is deep. It is set into the edge of the green, with the cup so close that it is possible to explode the ball dead or even to hole it. The match is tight. It is drawing to its end, and the player who is in the bunker is near either victory or extinction. What breath-taking suspense and what uncanny quiet as he prepares to play! And what a thrill if he makes a sensational shot that saves the day for him!

Freddie McLeod, 1908 National Open champion, probably has made more sensational explosion shots than any man in America. His stuff was part of the secret. The rest of it can only be obtained by hard study, if it is to be obtained at all.

McLeod tells of one notable instance where a splendid explosion shot counted for nothing. In match with Bob Barnett they both went into the same trap on the thirteenth hole at Columbia.

"I played first," says Freddie, "and I thought I was showing Bob something when I exploded two feet from the hole."

"But not long. Bob up and holed his explosion and won the hole."

EVEN HE MAKES MISTAKES
Even the greatest can go wrong sometimes. There was the time in 1919 at the Engineers' Club at Roslyn, L.I., when Freddie was playing Jim Barnes in the finals of the Professional Golfers' Association Championship.

On the eighth hole, 185 yards, Jim reached the green, twenty feet from the cup, but McLeod found a bunker on the left. Says he: "An explosion shot was necessary. The match was close and if I ever wanted perfect execution this was the time. But I swung badly, not taking any sand and the ball flew far over the green. It dropped on a pile of hay, sixty or seventy yards from the cup."

"It was the rottenest shot I've ever made. It was a bad shot, all right, but McLeod quickly made up for the blunder. Playing from the unstable mound of hay, he holed out. His three won the hole, too, for Barnes' nerves were so rattled he took three putts. Freddie says that holding that seventy-yard shot from the hay, with the ball on a level with his knees, was the best he ever made. The worst and the best in a space of five minutes. Jim recovered, however, and won the match and the championship. (Next—The Man Who Owns the Greatest Golfing Temperament.)

PLAGUE OF OWLS GETTING WORSE

W. N. Lenfesty Reports Having Paid Bounty on Over Hundred in Last Two Months

The plague of great horned owls appears to be getting worse. It is usually every seven years that these birds of prey appear here and play havoc with the game and the poultry. Last year they were here in large numbers and have apparently decided that the hunting is so good they will prolong their stay this time. A group of local sportsmen started a fund for the payment of a fifty-cent bounty, collectable at W. N. Lenfesty's store, and Mr. Lenfesty states that he has paid out this bounty on over a hundred in the last two months. Sixteen were brought in yesterday, one man alone bringing in seven. All those who have observed the owls report that they have also seen unmistakable evidence of their having killed pheasants and several of those owls brought in yesterday were killed in the act of devouring pheasants which they had killed.

Last night there was a great display of the dead owls in Mr. Lenfesty's window. Although not as attractive perhaps at Christmastide as turkeys, they still have a value for food purposes, many of them being bought by Chinese for half the amount of the bounty.

Labeling Speed

BEHIND the dazzling speed possible on C.C.M. Skates lie two things—a special steel and a special process. C. C. M. blades are made of Sheffield Chrome Nickel Steel—the same as is used in the costliest motor cars and finest edge tools. The special process is a secret heat-treating operation which hardens this fine steel to a flint-like hardness, yet guards against brittleness by allowing it to retain an inner "core" of exceedingly tough steel—practically unbreakable. Result: a flint-hard, keen-edged blade, fortified by inner strength. Correctly rockered for fast hockey. Electrically welded—not riveted. Rigid, light, strong.

TERROR REIGNS AMONG CHINESE

WHOLESALE EVICTIONS, EXECUTIONS AND MIGRATIONS ARE REPORTED

Apprehension of Renewed Fighting in Swatow Area Throws Population in Panic

SHANGHAI, Dec. 19.—Nationalist efforts to purge their territory of Bolshevism and its agents appear to have been followed by a reign of terror taking the form of wholesale evictions, executions and migrations. While some tales of horror and brutality emanating chiefly from Canton, the centre of anti-Red activities, may be exaggerated, there seems to be little doubt that the extremely violent methods used to crush Bolshevism and expel its exponents have reacted on the peaceable Chinese population. Natives in the affected districts, fearing to be confounded with those suspected of Bolshevistic leanings, are seeking asylum by thousands in Hong Kong. Reports of the execution in one group of 600 Chinese suspected of being Communists came from Canton today. A Soviet vice-consul was reported to be among those executed.

TO SHAMEN ISLAND
The danger of the situation is heightened by reports that Li Chai-sun, who was ousted from the dictatorship November 17, is at Swatow trying to prepare an expedition to regain control of the city. Apprehension of renewed fighting have thrown the population nearly into a panic.

Wealthy Chinese are transferring their valuables to the foreign concession, Shamen Island.

A Chinese relief delegation returning to Hong Kong after a visit to Canton, reported that more than 2,000 houses were destroyed by fire and that there were 3,000 casualties in connection with the disorders of a week ago when the Bolsheviks seized the city and lost to the Nationalists a day or so later.

Premier King, was asked whether next Saturday and the Saturday before New Year's Day will be holidays in the civil service. VESSEL BURNED TO FOIL DEVILS

Ill-Fated Ryo Yel Maru Destroyed in Place of Being Shipped Back to Japan

SEATTLE, Dec. 19.—To foil the devil which Japanese seafaring men were convinced must have brought bad luck to the ill-fated fishing smack Ryo Yel Maru, which drifted on the broad Pacific eleven months while her crew of thirteen Nipponese starved and died, the vessel has been consigned to the flames.

The Ryo Yel, which was valued at about $17,000, was secretly towed to an isolated beach on Puget Sound and the ship was filled with waste and soaked with oil, set afire and reduced to a mass of smouldering ashes and twisted metal.

It had been planned to ship the Ryo Yel back to Japan and arrangements were made to place the 85-foot boat on the after deck of an American Mail liner for return voyage. The ship was built, were convinced that evil spirits had taken possession of the ship and her return to Japan might bring other calamities.

No part of the ill-fated ship was saved but a demon escape the fire. The Yel was sighted off the Washington coast on October 31. She had set sail on a fishing trip from Japan, December 5, 1926. The last survivors of the crew died in May, 1927, a diary found aboard the vessel revealed.

MacCallum, chairman of the Department of Biochemistry. The resignations will take effect at the end of the 1927-28 session.

CHRISTMAS BENEFIT CLUB FUNDS DIVIDED

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Christmas benefit funds are busy this week paying back money subscribed by their members for their own use in the holiday season. In Shoreditch, one of the poorest quarters in London, the Christmas Benefit Club is paying out £20,000 to its 20,000 members, this sum representing small subscriptions in silver from time to time during the year. The London General Omnibus Club is distributing £40,000 for Christmas. Still larger amounts are being paid in some of the north of England centres. Unhappily the season is producing about the usual number of defaulting secretaries of the Christmas benefit clubs, some of which have been started in a haphazard manner.

VARIETY WILL REOPEN SOON

THEATRE HAS BEEN TAKEN OVER BY MR. EDWARD SPENCER

Norma Talmadge in "Camille" Will Be Starred in Picture Due Next Week

The Variety Theatre has now been taken over by Mr. Edward Spencer. The policy of the new management will be only the finest pictures obtainable, which will be played up to with a really fine orchestra. Miss Annie Spencer, the leading violinist, is well known in the Old Country and a pupil of the world-famous violinist virtuoso, John Nunn.

The management has been fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Clifford Warn, who is undoubtedly one of the finest pianists on the Pacific Coast. Mr. E. Spencer, cellist, is a pupil of Carl Fuchs, the great German master cellist. The feature attraction on the opening bill will be Norma Talmadge in the popular screen production, "Camille."

ADOLPHE MENJOU IN COLORFUL FILM

High-Batted Masher of Screen Has Seventeen-Year-Old Lady Lead in Capitol Feature

A seventeen-year-old Irish girl, who is a United States citizen, a subject of Great Britain, and a resident of Mexico City, has been cast as a French bride in an American motion picture, thereby bringing to light one of the most amazing stories of overnight film success ever told. Shirley O'Hara, who recently signed a five-year contract with Paramount as a leading woman, is the girl. She will first be seen opposite Adolphe Menjou in "A Gentleman of Paris," which plays at the Capitol all this week.

On the stage this week are "The Morenoffs," a spectacular Russian dance duet, which is the headline offering. Jack Oliver, a colored comedian, in an uproariously funny skit, and Miss Rena McLoud, a delightful coloratura soprano completes the bill of vaudeville appearing twice daily on the Capitol Theatre stage in conjunction with the regular picture attractions.

PLAYHOUSE Romance, thriller, laughter and pathos commingle in "Simple Sis," Warner Bros. delightful human story of the love quest of a laundry girl, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. Louise Fazenda and Clyde Cook are the principals. The part of "Simple Sis," is perfectly suited to Miss Fazenda's unique genius. It is the first romantic role she has had for many moons, but the love interest does not for a moment slacken the pace of the rollicking comedy.

COLUMBIA Parading as a widow in her latest star vehicle, "Nobody's Widow," Leatrice Joy plays a dangerous thought-captivating game in an effort to be revenged upon her young husband whose sins she discovers, an hour after their wedding, kissing a pretty Parisienne girl. The picture, which is a screen version of Avery Hopwood's successful stage comedy of the same title, will be on view at the Columbia Theatre today and tomorrow. Charles Ray, Phyllis Haver and David Butler appear in featured roles.

COLISEUM Playing to a packed theatre house, the Ray Bell players' presentation, "The Northernner," at the opening performance last night, proved to be all that was claimed to be and more. It is a stirring Southern comedy drama, which is undoubtedly one of the best of its kind produced during the last few years.

Exercises Aid Glenna's Tee Shots

By SOL METZGER
Women lack distance solely because they do not possess the strength of men. Yet some of them consistently drive around 300 yards. Glenna Colquhoun is such a golfer. In her early days on the links she could not hit that far. The cure came in the winter, when she had no opportunity for golf.

Glenna's father happened to be a former star bicyclist who knew quite a bit about training and physical development. He recognized that if his daughter was to get anywhere on the links she would need strong forearms, wrists and hands. He hit on a novel idea to strengthen them. Glenna was given two tennis balls to carry in the pockets of her sweater. At odd moments she would squeeze these balls. This exercise aided her materially in giving her the strength that is no small factor in her game today. Another exercise of hers is to stand erect with hands on hips, turn her body at the hips and then unwind it as she would in playing a stroke. Here's a fine winter exercise for the golfer. Tuesday's article I will discuss the one-handed putter used by a famous old athlete, Joshua Crane.

years. The audience were kept in uproar from the rise of the curtain until its fall, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves throughout. This week's added attraction proved the surprise of the evening when Alex Fraser, the well-known London and New York actor, who for the past few years has been connected with Wyllie & Tate, England's greatest pantomime producers, presented a sketch, which he himself wrote, for the first time to an audience.

The patrons of the Coliseum will be assured of seeing a real English pantomime Christmas Week, beginning December 26.

MARION DAVIES IN ANOTHER TRIUMPH

Movie Favorite Scores Brilliant Success in Barrie Story on Dominion Screen

Undoubtedly Marion Davies has scored an artistic triumph in "Quality Street," the screen version of the famous play from the pen of Sir J. M. Barrie. This play, which for years afforded Maude Adams a starring vehicle, has now been transferred to the screen with all the charm and whimsicality of Barrie, showing at the Dominion Theatre this week. The play is a class picture in every way and the portrayal of Barrie's famous heroine by Marion Davies, will long be remembered as one of the most artistic bits of acting seen on the screen.

Original English Company Plays In "The Beggar's Opera"

Romantic characters out of the past fill the stage of "The Beggar's Opera," which is coming to Victoria on Friday and Saturday, December 30 and 31, at the Royal Theatre, and will be acted and sung by the original company direct from the Lyric Theatre, Hammersmith, London, where the revival of this old musical play enjoyed a run of four solid years. The company arrived from London in October and is making a Coast to Coast tour of the United States and Canada, commemorating the two-hundredth anniversary of the first performance of "The Beggar's Opera." The principal personages in the piece are Mr. Peachum and his wife, their daughter, Polly; Lockit, the keeper of Newgate prison, and his daughter, Lucy; Captain Macheath, a gentleman highwayman; Filch, a stool-pigeon and assistant to Peachum, and a variety of young ladies who rejoice in such names as Dainty Trapes, Jenny Diver, Mrs. Coaxer, Dolly Trull, Mrs. Blamkin, Suky Tawdry, Molly Brazen and Betty Doxey.

HISTORIC MANSIONS BURN DOWN IN LONDON

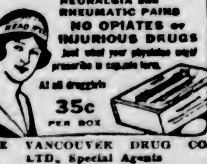

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Two historic mansions, the Stoke Edith in Herefordshire, and Michelman Priory, near Eastbourne, were destroyed by fire over the week-end. A woman servant had to be rescued from the roof of Stoke Edith as flames ate their way through floors of the famous seventeenth century mansion. While the cause of these particular outbursts have not yet been determined, fire which have burned down other historic houses in the past year have been traced to the installation of modern heating apparatus in residences built on the old-time plan.

Mr. Whitney Must Pay

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Judgment for £77,286 (about £280,000) against Harry Payne Whitney, New York sportsman and financier, for default in the payment of a super-tax in England, was granted by the King's Bench Division today. The Attorney-General told the judge that Mr. Whitney had fought the assessment, which covered several years, right to the House of Lords, which decided that a foreign resident abroad is none the less liable to the super-tax.

The motorist was new to the district, and came to a crossroad, where he encountered an old countryman. "Can you tell me which road to take for Dullbridge?" he inquired. The old man waved his hand toward the left. "Thanks," said the motorist. "Is it very far?" "Isn't so very far," was the response, "but when you get there you'll wish it was farther."

Excellent Entertainment Given at Langford Packer House With Appreciative Audience

LANGFORD, Dec. 19.—A very successful and enjoyable piano recital was given here on Saturday evening in the schoolroom by the pupils of Mrs. H. Simpson. The room was filled and the enthusiasm of the audience testified to the popularity of these semi-annual events. Rev. H. B. Allen acted as chairman. During the programme Mr. Frank Smalley sang two much appreciated solos: "Miss G. Hawkeswood sang very sweetly "Coming Home," and "Morning," and Miss Ada Simpson sang "Linden Lee," and "The Arrow and the Song." After the programme refreshments were served by Mrs. Simpson and the girls of her class. Mr. Ernest Stonier gave several delightful violin solos and the accompaniment for the evening were Miss Ada Simpson and Mrs. E. Shields.

On behalf of the pupils Rev. H. B. Allen presented Mrs. Simpson with a large box of chocolates. Mr. C. Whitney-Griffiths proposed a vote of thanks to teacher and pupils for the pleasant evening. Cumberland Society Re-elects Officers At Annual Meeting

CUMBERLAND, Dec. 19.—At the annual meeting of the Cumberland Literary and Athletic Association, it was decided to dispense in future with the services of a paid secretary, the duties to fall on the shoulders of one of the two stewards. The retiring secretary, Mr. R. Stagerman, has served the association faithfully and well for the past four years, and many of the members regret the action of the meeting in dispensing with a part-time paid secretary. The old board of management was re-elected with the exception of Mr. J. Robb, who has left the district. Mr. W. McMillan was elected to fill his place.

Cumberland Cronies Have Social Evening

CUMBERLAND, Dec. 19.—The Cumberland Cronies Burns Club held a most delightful social evening on Saturday in the Anglican Church Hall, a number of well-known local artists contributing to a finely balanced vocal and musical programme. Mrs. John Cameron delighted the audience with a very lucid description of the Burns country, literally taking her listeners with her over a tour of the places made famous by the beloved bard. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the club, which was followed by a dance to music supplied by the Byng Boys' Orchestra.

MINER BADLY ROCK BY FALL OF ROCK

NANAIMO, Dec. 19.—Robert Dean, of this city, was seriously injured on Saturday evening in the Walekum mine by a fall of rock. His injuries were such as to necessitate his removal to Ladysmith hospital for treatment.

Christmas Features Will Be Presented

Selections from Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will be rendered by Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, L.T.C.L., while the pupils of the Victoria School of Expression will enact a scene from "Crisper on the Hearth," featuring "Bob Cratchit's Christmas Dinner," at the meeting of the local branch of the Royal Society of St. George, to be held this evening in the Conservative Club rooms, Campbell Building, at 8 o'clock. Solo, duet, and Christmas carols by the full choir of the Victoria School of Expression, which were very popular in winning the shield at the recent musical festival, will also be rendered. The programme, which has been long in preparation, promises to be one of the most enjoyable put on by the local society. Admission is free, but a collection will be taken to defray expenses.

N. Saanich Social Club

SIDNEY, Dec. 19.—The North Saanich Social Club held its regular weekly card party and social evening in the club rooms, School Crossroads, on Saturday night. There was a good turnout of members and their friends, who spent a most enjoyable time at progressive five hundred, which was played at twelve tables. Twenty hands resulted in the ladies' prize being presented to Mrs. Thomas, and the men's to Master Wilfrid Hill. At the conclusion of the cards, the supper committee served refreshments, and the remainder of the evening passed pleasantly at dancing, the music being efficiently supplied by Miss Hambley and Mr. Bisher.

Next Saturday evening being Christmas Eve, the social evening will be held in the hall as usual, the gentlemen members of the club taking full charge of the refreshments and the making and serving of the refreshments. During the evening there will be carol singing as well as the regular cards and dancing.

Next Friday afternoon the North Saanich Social Club, under auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, will hold the annual Christmas tree and supper for the children of club members. The children are asked to assemble any time from 3:30 o'clock on, supper to be served promptly at five o'clock. Santa Claus has promised to arrive and distribute the many gifts from the tree to each little boy and girl, and a general frolic will bring the evening to a close.

KIDNAPPER CAUGHT

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 19.—An attempt to kidnap Esther Swapp, fourteen-year-old Pasadena girl, from a downtown street here last night was frustrated when a posse of fifteen deputy sheriffs chased the man into the hills east of the city and cornered him in a canyon. Officers first believed that the man might be the kidnapper-slayer of twelve-year-old Marian Parker, of Los Angeles, but his description did not tally with that of the Los Angeles man.

SAANICH M.P.P. IS CRITICAL

The Hon. T. G. Coventry is Doubtful of Value of Heavy Government Expenditure

PARTY CONTRASTS ON PUBLIC WORKS

At the meeting at Marigold Hall last evening, under the auspices of the Ward Four, Saanich Conservative Association, the Hon. Thomas G. Coventry, the member for the district, speaking upon the situation in the province, said that under the heavy burden of taxation being placed upon the people there were Liberals who were admitting that the country was far behind that of the multiplicity of taxation.

Mr. Coventry dealt with the article that Mr. P. Philip, the Deputy Minister, had written for the Times on the road policy of the Government. The figures showed that when the Liberals had the power in British Columbia there were 13,000 miles of road, now after ten years there were 17,000 miles. This left only 4,000 miles to be constructed by the Liberal administration, at the present rate of expenditure, and the revenue collected by the Conservatives had been only $6,200,000 in 1916, whereas in 1926 the Liberals were collecting $21,000,000. As the Public Works was the great spending department of the Government, the Liberal rule was far behind that of the Conservatives.

This was borne out in the information given the Legislature with respect to the expenditure, and the cost of the work under the Liberals. It showed that the patronage system was being worked to the extreme in the expending of public money.

In Delta, represented by the Liberal whip, there were thirty-four miles of road in 1924. This had been done at a cost of $16,000 only to the municipalities there, or only $3,400 a mile. In Saanich, however, in the same year there were seventeen miles of road. This Saanich paid $250,000, or $15,000 a mile.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. H. Holmes, the president of the Ward Four Association. During the evening both Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Coventry made references to the death of Mr. J. Kellie, one of the pioneers of the province, and one who though opposed to them in politics was a man of sterling integrity, and had done a noble work as a pioneer in this province.

During the progress of the evening Mrs. Tolmie and Mrs. Coventry were presented with bouquets, the presentation being made by Misses Peggy Ryder and F. Fisher.

Songs were sung by Mrs. S. Bowden, Miss Eileen Bennett and Mr. R. Hardy. Recitations were given by Miss Spencer and Miss Hayman and Mr. Thomas Haddon. Messrs. G. S. Watson, Hardy, S. L. Saunders and M. Thomas rendered quartettes accompanied by Mr. J. Smith. Mr. Impett and Blair appeared in comic numbers.

Following the concert a number of drawings took place when prizes were awarded, consisting of turkeys, geese and other commodities. Mr. A. Lang, the fortunate winner of the prize turkey, returned the same to be auctioned for the orphanage, and Mr. S. F. Tolmie, winner of a box of apples, followed the same course.

Dancing was engaged in for a couple of hours with music provided by Mr. and Mrs. Schofield and Mr. Foster.

Fine Programme at Christmas Recital

The Christmas recital of the Victoria School of Expression was held in Harmony Hall, Fort Street, on Saturday evening. A capacity audience filled the hall. The programme was well suited to the season, both as regards dramatic and musical items. A Christmas play from Dickens was given by the following students: Nancy Craig, Opal Day, Dorothy Watson, Isabel Thompson, Clemency Ord, Garth Griffiths, Jack Stokes and Ralph Lancaster. All parts were well played. Readings were given by Mrs. Wilfrid Ord and a pianoforte solo by the accompanist, Miss Bonshor. Carols were sung by a group of students with great sweetness, the pupils taking part being R. Hayman, E. Valliant, M. Graham, A. Fairweather, C. Craig, E. Bayliss, N. Craig, B. Kirchen, N. Clark and M. Lewis. Catherine Craig recited a Christmas poem very charmingly, and M. Graham sang, her voice being one of great promise. Duets were also contributed by Evelyn Valliant and Mollie Graham and by Dorothy Bishop and Evelyn Valliant.

At the end of the programme a presentation was made of a vase and flowers to the principal of the school, Ruth Hayman, in the name of all the students, referred gracefully to the response given by all the students to the ideals inculcated by Mrs. Ord.

JAPANESE ARRESTED

VANCOUVER, Dec. 19.—Arrested early Sunday morning, Etasugi Mori, thirty-eight, was charged with the murder of Isaku Nishimura, fifty-two, who disappeared on March 13 from his lodgings here.

Four other Japanese are held for investigation in connection with the case. A second Japanese, S. Takahashi, has been arrested by Vancouver police and charged with murder in connection with the death of Nishimura. Takahashi appeared in police court at 11 a.m. and was remanded for a week.

TOURING TAXIS DEADLY

Touring taxis are responsible for the greater number of street accidents in Tokyo, Japan, according to the police traffic bureau. Traffic accidents between September 1 and October 15 totaled 2,646, resulting in injuries to 1,674 and seventeen deaths. There are 16,000 taxicabs in Tokyo, which is 4,000 more than a year ago.

BROTHERHOOD HOLDS RECEPTION FOR PRAIRIE VISITORS

The reception given to the Prairie visitors by the Metropolitan Brotherhood on Friday last, met with a splendid response and was an unqualified success. The school auditorium of the Metropolitan Church was comfortably filled with guests and hosts. As each visitor entered they were tagged with their name written on a colored slip, which was distinctive of the province from which they hailed.

Community singing was indulged in in the intervals between the exhibition of pictures of local lantern views, the words being thrown upon the screen. In happy speeches members of the Brotherhood welcomed the visitors. Mr. Pullbrook, as a former Alberta resident, welcomed those from that province. Mr. Anderson spoke for Saskatchewan and Mr. P. Simpson for Manitoba. Mr. G. B. Christie voiced a welcome to all on behalf of British Columbia. After each speech of welcome the visitors from the respective provinces, on the invitation of the chairman, rose and gave their name and the name of the town or district from which they came. Many from adjoining districts were by this means made known to each other.

Games were participated in between sides composed of the ladies and men from the different provinces, the final contest being won by Saskatchewan, a second competition being carried off by way of vocal solos by Miss Mae Mason, Mr. A. Sullivan and Mr. Fred Wright, and very much enjoyed, and instrumental music was rendered by Mr.

H. Curry during the progress of the reception. Mr. R. J. C. Smith, the president of the Brotherhood, made an ideal chairman and M.C.; Mr. H. Hollins led the community singing, and Mr. Harper provided the lantern entertainment. At the close of the evening refreshments were served, and on behalf of the church a welcome was voiced by Dr. Sippell, the pastor, to the visitors.

SENATOR SLATES MR. W. M. R. HEARST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—An open letter to William Randolph Hearst condemning him for publication of the documents purporting to show creation of a $125,000 Mexican fund for four United States Senators was made public today by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, one of the Senators named in the documents.

Senator Norris and three other Senators mentioned, Borah, Idaho; Heflin, Alabama, and La Follette, Wisconsin, have been cleared of any suspicion of having received the money or having been approached in regard to it by members of the special Senate committee investigating the charge and also by Mr. Hearst, who gave the documents to the committee.

Senator Norris said in the open letter that a fair analysis of the articles published by Hearst, and of his testimony before the committee, "leads to the inevitable conclusion that you are not only unfair and dishonest, but that you are entirely without honor."

"So This Is Marriage"

By JUDITH WEST

CHAPTER XXXVIII

He was tired of wrangling. As if he liked it!

Where does the money go?

He was always asking that. And he always added: "Why I know lots of couples who aren't making as much as I am and they manage to live well and save something, too."

It is true that it took me four months to realize I was spending

Jim's money on the same scale as I

and formerly spent my own. But

Jim was still throwing his income away as freely as he had before he was married and when his whole salary was his to do with as he pleased.

Take the car. He had a perfect

nanita for buying useless doodads or that old Antique. First, there was a spotlight; then a dinky match case and ash tray that he didn't use after the first week.

And, of course, he had to have a smag and a cigarette lighter.

When there was nothing else to buy he would decide the car needed

new type of tire to keep from kidding on wet days.

The next day there would be a brand new knob in the engine—

just the valve cap or something into the repair shop went the unique.

As soon as the engine was running smoothly again the brakes could need relining. Or perhaps the snubbers had to be fixed. "Those snubbers! They were always good

or a repair bill! If automobile

mechanics aren't millionaires, they

ought to be!

Yet—where does the money go?

It had never occurred to Jim that

he was paying a big instalment

on a house that was too expensive

for us in the first place; that he

was paying another one on a houseful of luxurious furniture.

And now, when the snubbers and the valves were all as they should be—

he was having the old car painted!

Where does the money go?

"I won't stand for it much longer," I stormed to myself as I cleared the table and washed the dishes. "He's no more tired of wrangling than I am."

Now it's a queer thing about quarreling and bickering; it gets to be a habit.

For instance, Jim came back from his walk looking as peppy and good-natured as if nothing had happened to mar his sweet disposition.

He sat down before the fire, took out a cigarette and reached for a match. Then his face darkened.

I knew what the trouble was: the match box was empty again.

"Judy," he called out peevishly,

"for the love Mike, why don't you keep these match cases filled?"

Whatever Jim does with the matches, I don't know. Sometimes

I think he must eat them. He has three separate and distinct smoking sets and it does seem impossible to keep them all filled with matches

all of the time.

"For the love Mike, what do you do with the matches?" I would show him I could be just as irritable as he was. But I flounced into the kitchen and brought him a box of snubbers! They were always good

or a repair bill! If automobile

mechanics aren't millionaires, they

ought to be!

Yet—where does the money go?

It had never occurred to Jim that

ought to be!

Yet—where does the money go?

It had never occurred to Jim that

he was paying a big instalment

on a house that was too expensive

for us in the first place; that he

was paying another one on a room and gave my face a good cold-cream. These petty quarrels raise the very chickens with the complexion; seems to me I find a new wrinkle every time we have a tussle.

The next day Willie called up and wanted to know if I would like to attend a rehearsal of the fashion models in the recreation room of the store. Like it? I was tickled to death.

Spring clothes. Is there anything on earth that can whirl a woman

into the seventh heaven—or hell—

of desire like Spring clothes?

Summer clothes—fall clothes—

Winter clothes—just clothes and no more.

But when the gaunt arms of the fruit trees down in the orchard valley garb themselves in shiny clean new leaves and burst into a fragrant pink and white glory of blossom tulle, then I go off my head and get a little bit mad about clothes.

Nor is it silly vanity that makes a woman long for new raincoat in the Spring; it is a fundamental,

not-to-be-denied nature instinct.

I watched the lovely girls who were to display the latest from Paris and as I watched them I forgot all about unfilled match-holders and newly-painted old cars.

Everything seemed possible—even enough surplus in the cheque book

for a new Spring suit.

How peppy they were. Those models—ladies—to use an excellent,

old-fashioned word. There were many among them who were preferred to Willie; but none, I thought with a sort of maternal pride, who had more personality, who radiated more of that—something.

"Walk tall; walk tall!" the fashion director commanded as he suited action to word and drew up his corpulency into a straight line.

"No, not that way—not stiff and away-back just feel tall. See?

Pretend you can feel yourself growing up—up—up."

Some of the girls were seasoned models. But there were half a dozen who, like Willie, could not yet walk with the flowing grace of a

Grecian woman carrying a jug of water on her head.

"Remember, you don't walk with your shoulders. Keep them still.

Swing your legs from the hips—

so. Then to Willie: "You have it —good!"

How the girls learned to walk directly in front of the other, I don't know. But for the next two weeks, every time Willie came out to the house she put a book on her head and practiced toting the blue line of the carpet. She had read,

she said, of a famous actress who confessed that her graceful carriage had been acquired by walking around her hotel room with a book on her head.

What sense she put into her new job! What vitality and intelligence.

And what a pity that innocent

Mother Jim had, all unconsciously, been permitting her to waste that fine energy on reckless, youth-destroying parties.

Wait until my mother-in-law

heard that I had added and abetted her daughter to "put herself on display in a public place," as she would probably phrase it. Jim, too.

Well, what about it? They would get over it.

My only worry had to do with Willie's next step. After the style show—what? What effect would it have on her? Would it open up new fields to conquer or would this contact with beautiful, expensive clothes merely make her discontented that she couldn't have everything she had worn?

This was the little fear that was always in the back of my head. It was there when I took my place in the very front row of the C&N

Paris and waited for Willie's first entrance. I felt like a mother at her daughter's first night.

"How thrilling to be back again,"

I thought as I waited for the show to begin. "To have my own pay envelope again. If Jim would only let me go to work I wouldn't care

how much he spent on the old car."

PRESIDENT LINER BRING 500 TONS

Cleveland Experiences Rough Weather on Route From Orient
to Victoria

The American Mail liner President Cleveland, Captain George W.

Yardley, docked here shortly after a 6 o'clock yesterday morning, after being buffeted by heavy seas and high winds as she neared the coast.

The Cleveland brought a heavy cargo, including 500 tons for Victoria, and 111 bags of mail. About

2,000 bundles of Japanese oranges were consigned to local merchants.

Her silk cargo totaled 1,151 bales.

Passengers numbered 127, including fifty cabin travelers. There were several Chinese for this port,

while the only cabin passenger was Miss Ethel Warren.

Among the prominent passengers were Mr. V. L. Bourquin and Mr. J.

Wagon, of the Kamchatka Cannery

Company at Vladivostok, on a business trip to the United States;

Messrs. M. Akiyoshi, Y. Hanawa

and K. Kanachi, en route to New York, and Mr. J. H. Brown, of the Dibrell Brothers, tobacco exporters of Shanghai. Other passengers aboard the vessel included Mr. E. C.

Peters, of the China mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, returning to Seattle; Dr. H. T. Hodgkin,

of the National Christian Council, who is to attend a convention of the council at Detroit; Mr. Y. Fujii, banker connected with the Mitsui

Trust Company, en route to New York to take up duties at that office of the firm; Mr. Fred Mysberg, also a banker, who is on his way to the head office of the Handelsbank

at Amsterdam.

The building would cost $2,500

and would be what has been an eyesore for a number of years.

The city will have the right, under the lease, to give sixty days' notice

and take over the building if competition is made, should the city

desire to sell the property.

On the recommendation of the lands committee three parcels of reverted land were sold. One situated on the corner of the property

sold to Mrs. Margaret E. Beasley for $900; another situated on Mendez street to Mr. Harry Leach, of California, for $500, and the other, situated on Bay Street, for $300.

Immigration Officers Guard Canada's Health

Every Prospective Settler Must Pass Rigid Medical Test Before Leaving Home Country for the Dominion

The most vital natural resource of a country is its human capital; in the final analysis a nation's stability and greatness hinges on its percentage possession of healthy, happy, industrious citizens. Canada is as yet but thinly populated; vast stretches of her territory still await the coming of hardy virile manhood. Realizing this, it is not to be wondered at that since Confederation immigration has been one of the important problems with which the successive governments, charged with the administration of the country's affairs, have had to deal. Canada's experience through more than half a century has shown that if reasonable success is to be achieved by immigration and the families, and a vigorous parental stock for future generations of Canadians safeguarded, it is of primary importance that incoming settlers should be fit both physically and mentally.

STANDARD RAISED

Since the creation of the Federal Department of Health in 1917, under whose administration the medical inspection of immigrants was placed, increasing stress has been laid upon physical and mental ratings, and the standard of selection has been and is being steadily raised. As a result of the immigration medical officers' certification, immigrants who on arrival are found to be physically or mentally defective may be refused permission to land. Others who have been successful in passing the medical line inspection, but who after a few weeks or months in Canada, suffer a mental or physical breakdown of which the symptoms were not apparent at the time of arrival, and who thereby may become public charges, are subject to deportation. Such an outcome may be a serious matter to the persons concerned, having given up home and employment in their native land, their re-establishment on return may prove difficult. Prospective immigrants in recent years have been recommended

The "Flu" LEFT HER WITH A VERY WEAK HEART

Mrs. Beulah Demore, Pleasant River, N.B., writes:—"Having suffered with the 'flu' a few years ago, I was left with a very weak heart. 'I was unable to go about, and could not do my housework. 'I would get dizzy spells and would have to go and lie down. 'I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up. 'I tried different kinds of medicine, but they seemed to do me no good. 'A friend recommended

"I have used five boxes and am much better; do not get those dizzy spells, and can do my own work as well as ever."

ed therefore before taking active steps towards emigrating to this country, to present themselves for thorough medical examination to a doctor in their home district, selected from a roster approved by the Department of Health of Canada. Only in the case of unaccompanied women, children's immigration schemes and Government-assisted passages to Canada, has such medical examination been compulsory. In the past, in these relatively few cases the results which such examination has produced are very marked.

COMPARISON MADE

A comparison of the official figures shows that for 1926, the last complete period for which figures are available, out of approximately 95,000 immigrants arriving in Canada who did not undergo compulsory examination before embarkation, the medical line inspection at the ports of entry, which is necessarily cursory and not adequate for the detection of certain types of disease, eliminated only twenty-eight or 33 per cent of mental defectives and forty-one or 44 per cent under the head of loathsome and communicable-disease; on the other hand, of the 20,000 assisted immigrants who underwent compulsory examination before embarkation, one hundred and fifty or 75 per cent of the former group and one hundred and ninety-five or 97 per cent of the latter group were certified as unfit and prohibited from entry into Canada. All things being equal there is no particular reason why the percentage should be lower in the one case than in the other.

A NEW PLAN

A further important development in the elimination of the unfit is about to be undertaken. Following approval by the Canadian Government, it has been decided that every prospective immigrant to Canada shall be examined by a medical officer as to his or her mental and physical fitness before permission to emigrate to this country is granted. For this purpose a number of Canadian medical examiners have been appointed, who will be stationed at key cities in Great Britain, Ireland, and on the continent of Europe. Under this policy, while admission to Canada will continue to be determined finally at the Canadian ports of arrival, no person will be permitted by our Department of Immigration to emigrate to this country until he or she has been examined and passed by an officer of the Immigration Medical Service, Department of Health. A maximum degree of weeding-out of the physically and mentally unfit will thereby be attained, thus reducing to a minimum the possibility of rejection on this side. It is expected that this new policy will be in operation by the time the flow of immigration to Canada sets in next Spring.

Accumulation of stocks and declines in exports of cotton yarns and textiles have caused the Japanese Spinners' Association to restrict production to eighty-one per cent of the capacity of the members' mills.
